

mean error between a generated sample and every dataset sample

