

While the comments of the referees do not require changes in content, some changes in presentation make it clear that such changes in content are not required, such as the added discussion of the confinement of river drainage networks to the surface of the Earth (rather than subsurface, or through the atmosphere), and the clarification of where the uncertainty in Gray's reported exponent value come from. These sections and all other changes are now underlined.