We thank the referee for the comments and we attach a PDF file with our detailed answers. The document provides a sequence of the referee’s original comments (in blue), followed by our answer (in black) and the corresponding modification of the text (in red). We feel the modifications have enriched the paper with the discussions prompted by the comments. The transport analysis was extended to have evidence of diffusive transport. The new version will be uploaded as soon as the system requests us to do so, according to the journal procedures.
